Niagara County Legislators Vote to Fund One Year Continuation of BCS!

Border Community SERVICE has received wonderful news! Niagara County recently demonstrated its commitment to citizen preparedness training by voting to support the Border Community SERVICE Program when grant funding expired on June 30th.

On June 19, 2007, the full Niagara County Legislature approved County Manager Gregory Lewis’ request to allocate $200,000 of the county's federal homeland security aid for a one-year continuation of the Border Community SERVICE Program.

"We shouldn't allow this program to go away with this grant, but we should take a leadership position and fund it with homeland security dollars 100 percent," Lewis said. "We have more than adequate [homeland security] dollars that we have yet to spend from 2005 and 2006," the manager said. The county budgeted $2.67 million in federal homeland security aid this year alone. The $200,000 is being taken from a line in the budget labeled "miscellaneous equipment."

Sheriff Thomas A. Beilein praised the training programs, some of which have been taught by instructors from his department. "The feedback on these programs is absolutely positive," Beilein said.

Niagara University has hosted Border Community Service for three years. "They've made a commitment to do this as part of Niagara University's mission," Lewis said. Lewis said the three priorities set by the Department of Homeland Security for the use of its grants to localities are, in order, interoperability of communications equipment, defense of critical infrastructure and citizen preparation. Thus, he said, funding these training programs is an appropriate use of the money.

The county manager said he will urge Buffalo and Erie County to chip in to keep the program going after Niagara County’s $200,000 is used up.

Successful First CERT County-wide Tabletop Exercise

Niagara County CERT Volunteers recently participated in a successful first-time “tabletop” exercise. On June 26th, CERT volunteers gathered at three sites, in North Tonawanda, Niagara Falls, and Cambria, for a game-like experience planned to provide practice in skills that might be needed during an emergency situation.

After being given a scenario developed by Chief MacKay of NFFD with support from Howard Morgan of Cambria and Ed Suski of Columbia Hook & Ladder (NT), CERT Volunteers worked to respond to many challenges.

CERT was supported by RACES members, amateur radio operators, who staffed the 3 sites and the Emergency Operations Center in Lockport under the direction of Niagara County Director of Emergency Services, James Volkosh.

Please Update Your Contact Information!

Have you moved recently? Perhaps you changed your phone number or added a cell phone? As the Border Community SERVICE program and CERT move forward to better serve the community, it is extremely important that we maintain correct, updated contact information for CERT-trained volunteers. In the event of an emergency it is essential that new addresses, new email addresses, new or changed phone numbers (cell phones included), and any other pertinent information are on file. As CERT teams become better organized and more active, this information is vital.
